

Dee Jay Hammon

A Brigham City resident for over 40 years, Dee Jay received a Bachelor Of Science degree in Mechanical Engineering from the University of Utah, and a Master of Science degree in Engineering Mechanics from Stanford University. He also has completed numerous post-graduate courses in engineering, mathematics and business at UCLA, BYU and Utah State University. Currently providing consulting professional engineering services, Dee Jay was employed by Thiokol Corporation for 37 years, where he served as vice president of Strategic Engineering. He retired in 1995. A licensed and registered Utah Professional Engineer, Dee Jay served as a leader in the Northern Utah Professional Engineering Organization. Dee Jay was elected to the Brigham City Council in 1984 where he had oversight responsibility over the city's electric power organization. He served until 1988. He has also served on Brigham City's Planning Commission for six years, as well as serving as chairman of Brigham City's Board of Adjustment.

Member of several scholastic honorary societies, Dee Jay has also been very active in several civic-related committees. Married with four children, Dee Jay enjoys traveling and has extensive traveling experience.

Dee Jay was appointed to the Committee of Consumer Services by Governor Michael Leavitt and formally approved by the Senate on October 18 2000. His term expires June 30 2008.